

After a decade, Windows 10 says goodbye

On October 14, 2025, Windows 10 will officially reach its end of life.

That means Microsoft will stop providing updates. No security patches, bug fixes, or feature enhancements.

Running an unsupported operating system puts your computer and business at risk.

Cyber criminals often target end of life software because it's more vulnerable.

Start planning now to avoid disaster. You have 4 options:

OPTION 1

Do nothing (very risky).

 Windows 11

OPTION 2

Upgrade to Windows 11
(if your devices
meet the spec).

OPTION 3

Buy new hardware (it's always exciting to get a new computer).

OPTION 4

Extend Windows 10
by paying for enhanced security updates. But they're expensive.
